Explanation for budget increase/transfer:

The requested funding is needed to pay for an inspection on a T-28B airplane that is currently on display in Washington, DC. This type of plane was used for training at Barin Field and this one is connected to the field. The inspection is required by the Navy to see if the plane can be moved. The plane is slated for demo early next year, but if it can be moved, the Navy indicates they will assign it to the city. This is the cost for the initial inspection in D.C. only.
